The main directions of the conference::

- Institutionalization of military chaplaincy

- Legal and administrative components of the mobilization process and religion
- Volunteer activity as a space of interaction between religious organizations
- Theological view of the interaction between the church and the army

Three years of full-scale war and eleven years of Russia's hybrid aggression against Ukraine have led to the intertwining of the fates of two social institutions that were most trusted by the Ukrainian people - the Church and the Army. The interaction of the Armed Forces of Ukraine and religious organizations is the subject of the conference "Army and Church in Ukraine", which proposes to consider the problems and ways of their solution that have developed during the eleven-year confrontation between Ukraine and Russia.

We invite scholars, representatives of religious organizations, experts, representatives of public organizations, government agencies, and anyone interested in addressing these issues to join the conference.
